

THE MEMPHIS DAILY

MEMPHIS, SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1860.

BY McLANAHAN & DILL.

Daily Appeal.

RECORD OF JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE.

Mr. Breckinridge is a young politician, and a still younger Democrat; but since he joined the Democratic party, and at an early date, he never had any political influence or position given him by his party. He was admitted into his present practice, in 1848, a Taylor machine. We have a pamphlet copy before us, which we take the record of.

At a meeting of the citizens of Lexington and Fayette county, without distinction of party, he was called to the chair, and read a speech of his.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That the committee of five be directed to draft a preamble and resolutions expressive of the sense of this meeting.

The following persons so committeed: F. K. Hunt, John C. Breckinridge, F. S. Keyes, W. H. McCallum, who, after having retired for a few moments, returned and presented to the committee their resolutions.

Resolved, That the members of the people of Republic, who, unenriched by party connections and ties, are always sincere and resolute in their support of the cause of freedom.

Whereas, the choice by the people of the United States of a President is a matter of high importance, and the election of a man to the office, but the duties done by every good citizen to express his views in all proper channels, are equally important to the cause of freedom and public interests.

Resolved, That in the year of our Lord, the year of the birth of the nation, the year of the election of a President, he be a man of ability, integrity and moderation, and at the head of the nation, a leader of the friends of the people of the Union.

Resolved, That this meeting deplore and condemn the acts of violence and personal violence which have separated the people of the United States, and that they will be supported by every good citizen in the cause of peace, and in the effort to restore the Union.

When engaged into a government, that the territorial power could be used to sustain any man, who, perhaps, never even read the Declaration of Independence, or from their parents were informed of its contents.

The vindication for the admitted apparent change, and the excuse for the grossly ungentlemanlike conduct of the members of the Senate, was by the profession of the cause for whose rights he defended, as much as for the cause itself.

No point involving the inherent right of the people of all the organic territories to self-government, was ever so clearly argued before the court. In support of this argument, he adduced extracts from a recent letter of Hon. Levi Johnson, who argued the Dred Scott case.

The great error of the members of the Senate, was in their argument by the side, in separating the bill from the blood. More true than this, is the fact, that the bill was introduced.

He stated that the Panama railroad company demands $2,500 for bringing Japanese and Chinese laborers to the United States.

George Wood, a western manager, is the happy owner of the silvery longhorn, electrical, in the shape of a horse, which he has just sent to his countrymen.

Resolved, That Gen. Zachary Taylor possess these qualifications in an eminent degree, and that he will be supported by every good citizen, in his election to the office of President, discharged the duties pertaining in the Executive department of the Government with the highest ability, and credit, and that he will be a man of great worth to the nation.

Resolved, That this meeting recommend a mass-meeting of the friends of Gen. Taylor, to be held in the city of Lexington, on the court house, on Sept. 1st, and that a committee be appointed to invite the friends of the cause to attend, setting forth the importance and importance of electing him to the presidency.

On motion, the preamble and resolutions were adopted.

Mrs. F. K. Hunt, John C. Breckinridge, F. S. Keyes, Henry Johnson, and S. D. McCallum, who, after having retired for a few moments, returned and presented to the committee to prepare the adoption of the resolutions.

Resolved, That it was the sense of this meeting, that the city fathers be requested to make arrangements for the reception of Gen. Taylor.

Resolved, That the meeting adjourned.

G. R. KIRKLAND, chairman.
